Johnstown Is All Ready For State Legion

Flood City Expects Horde Of 25,000 By Thursday For Legion Sessions

GOVERNOR EARLE WILL BE SPEAKER

No Traces Of Recent Damaging Flood As City Decorates For Big Occasion

(International News Service) JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Aug. 18.—A festive atmosphere, this gaily-decorated, bunting-draped city today made last minute preparations for welcoming the horde of 25,000 visitors expected to attend the 18th annual convention of the Pennsylvania department, American Legion.

Miraculously transformed from the flood-stricken metropolis of a few months ago, the city flaunted a three-mile reach of flags and streamers in place of mud and slime which the turbulent Conemaugh left during the March flood.

Opens Wednesday. Early arrivals and pre-convention enthusiasm gave credence to the belief this year's gathering would far surpass any former convention though added impetus supply by the recent bonus payments.

Scheduled to open tomorrow with preliminary sessions and a dinner for 150 state department officers, the convention is expected to get under way in earnest Thursday when Mayor Daniel J. Shields will welcome the Legionnaires to this historic flood center.

Earle To Speak. Gov. George H. Earle was expected to arrive via his auto-giro on Thursday. He will address the convention then and remain until Saturday to view the annual parade, according to convention leaders. As leaders of the advance guard conferred in anticipation of the opening sessions, speculation was rife as to who would be chosen state (Continued On Page Two)

Alice Longworth Says

(Special To The News) BEVERLY HILLS, Aug. 18.—It must have been a considerable shock to New Dealers to read the report of the League of Nations monetary review, which compares industrial recovery in the United States most unfavorably with the recovery that has taken place in the United Kingdom.

The foreign investigators emphasize that in England there was a sustained banking policy to develop cheap money and stimulate production, while in this country "cheap money was achieved at a cost of heavy additions to the national debt," owing to Mr. Roosevelt's "long series of recovery measures."

It is possible that our foreign critics do not yet realize that bankers and business men are money changers, princes of privilege and economic royalists, and that they place in the New Deal scheme of things?

The report goes on to say that the British policy brought no great rise in prices, whereas in the United States prices rose more sharply. They are telling us!

Must Reorganize. "Unless society be reorganized on a Christian, cooperative and distributive basis the communistic threat will never end," he said. "Communism is wrong not in trying to better the lot of the poor but because it is based on a false philosophy of life."

"The church is opposed to it not because it pretends to better social conditions but because its attempt is (Continued On Page Two)

WILL TRY LOCAL RELIEF PLAN

Earle Asks Board To Set Up System

Six Counties Designated To Handle Relief By Non-Partisan Board

PLAN PARALLELS BATCHELOR'S IDEA

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18.—Establishment of a "Frankly experimental" system in six Pennsylvania counties to determine the advisability of non-partisan localized relief administration was being sought by Gov. George H. Earle.

Outlining his plan over a statewide radio hookup, the chief executive said he intends to ask the state emergency relief board at its next meeting to set up such a system to obtain actual facts concerning the relative merits of local and state administration of relief.

The governor would set up the experimental system in Cumberland, Butler, Carbon, Clarion, Centre and Chester counties. These counties, he pointed out, represent a "cross section of Pennsylvania's population in agricultural, mining and industrial areas."

"I sincerely believe that the operation of the plan will be of great value to the legislature when it meets next year to consider a general reorganization of our relief administration," the governor said.

Under Gov. Earle's plan, responsibility for administration of state unemployment relief funds would be vested in boards of eight, four members of each county board to be selected by Republican and four by Democratic members of the state emergency relief board.

he was 5. That afternoon, Alfred was away with his uncle Will. His mother insisted that I wait and see her little boy. I had to leave. That was my only chance of meeting him. I knew his mother well. I not only attended her wedding, but helped make the wedding clothes," she said with a broad smile.

"I am certainly looking forward to meeting him. I am rooting for him to win, but if he does, I pity him, as he will face a big problem. I have secured a lot of votes for him," Mrs. Jennings said.

"What do you think of the West Middlesex affair?" the newsmen asked.

"What do you think his chances are of being the next president?" was the newsmen's next question.

"His chances are good. President Roosevelt will get all the liquor votes and WPA workers' votes. On the other hand, if the American Legion sticks with Landon, that will offset the liquor votes and WPA votes. That's the way I have figured it out. His chances are equal to Roosevelt's," she said jubilantly. "Should Governor Landon become president, I am counting on an invitation to visit him at the White House. You see I did visit the capital some 30 years ago, but saw just a part of it," she exclaimed.

As the reporter prepared to leave, Mrs. Jennings said emphatically: "I'll be in West Middlesex at any rate next Saturday. I am leaving here Wednesday for Pulaski. From there I shall go to West Middlesex about Thursday, straight to Mrs. Young's for the reception. Don't forget, don't give out my age."

Union Drivers Out On Strike At Youngstown

Heavy Shipping In Mahoning Valley Is Practically Paralyzed

(International News Service)
YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 18.—Little hope was held today for speedy settlement of a strike called by union drivers which has virtually paralyzed heavy shipping throughout the Mahoning Valley.

The striking drivers remained adamant in their demands for a closed shop, increased wages and shorter hours.

Meanwhile, the threat of a complete tie-up of both large and small shippers, loomed as leaders of the chauffeurs and teamsters union debated calling out all union drivers and permitting only milk and bread deliveries to be made.

A shortage of supplies to the mills in the Youngstown district appears imminent, steel officials said. The Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., announced through J. C. Argelsinger, counsel, that railroads would be asked to run spur lines into the plants for shipping limestone and coal, if necessary.

based on militant atheism and denial of God.

"We must aim at correcting evils which communism pretends to remedy by inculcating into our own business and professional lives and into every strata of society the social principles outlined in the encyclicals of Leo XIII and Pius XI. To warn the suffering masses of the evils of communism and to do nothing to alleviate their hard lot will not avail.

Proper Leadership.
"Under proper leadership the Knights of Columbus in every part of America can become the instruments of Providence to save Christian civilization and Catholic culture from the menace which has plunged Mexico and Spain into a bitter welter of blood and tears.

"There is no doubt but that the enemies of Christ assail us in serious ranks and with well thought out tactics. The events taking place at this hour in Mexico and Spain and the rising tide of communism all over the world makes it imperative for us to march not one by one but to form a single compact army to galvanize ourselves into absolute unity of essentials for the defense of God, of church and of country.

"Practically speaking, I would say that two things are now the imperative duty of every Catholic layman worthy of the name. First, to aid in a wider diffusion of the truths of our holy faith. Secondly, to positively assist by word and by example in lifting the burden and oppression that has fallen on the masses through unemployment and precarious wage earning."

authorities indicated that "La Pasionaria" with her column is "lost."

As the ring of Generals Emilio Mola's and Francisco Franco's bayonets closes tighter around Madrid, the Reds have begun for the first time to take the offensive.

They made a daring drive with 200 motor trucks from Guadalajara to Atienza, striving to cut off a Rebel Saragossa column heading for Sigüenza, but the attempt met with disaster.

The 200 trucks carrying around 2000 troops came into contact with the white forces, a squadron of white bombers located them, and in a murderous attack with machine guns and bombs, sustained over several hours, destroyed the entire column. Returning again and again with fresh bombs and ammunition, the white war planes left not one red truck intact, while the white pilots reported that they flew low enough to see the bodies of the reds expelled in fragments from their exploding trucks.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Last night was quite different from that of the past week, when the temperature turned from one of extreme heat to extreme coolness. The mercury was down to 44 degrees early this morning.

The headlight lens from an automobile fell from its mounting and dropped and rolled along the street narrowly missing a number of cars and coming to rest on the street without even as much as cracking the glass. This was noticed on the Public Square yesterday afternoon.

Some women seem to be going in for the more masculine type of work. A young lady was noticed slapping paint on the outside of her home on the West Side this morning.

HOME COMING FOR McFARLAND SCHOOL

About three hundred persons gathered at Liberty Grange hall, Saturday for the ninth annual home-coming of McFarland school.

At noon, dinner was served in the hall, after which a program was given and the election of officers was held. Many familiar songs were sung, some of these including: "Love's Old Sweet Song," "Silver Threads Among the Gold," "Long, Long Ago," "When You and I Were Young Maggie," "Till We Meet Again" and "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." S. A. Eakin was song leader, and accompanists were Mrs. Chauncey Dean and Mrs. S. A. Eakin.

A duet, "Pals of the Little Red School House" was sung by Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Eakin, with Miss Grace Eakin, accompanist.

Remarks were made by Howard Stoner, a former teacher at McFarland school, who is now teaching in a high school in Los Angeles, Cal. A brief talk was heard from Miss Collins, a graduate from Bible school, who is expecting to do missionary work in a foreign field.

At the business session, the following deaths were reported: Mrs. Myrtle Hunt Hunter, Bellevue; Mrs. Minnie Hunt White, Warren, O.; Miss Ella Culbertson, New Castle, who was a former teacher of McFarland school.

HALBERT FAMILY HAS FIRST ANNUAL REUNION

Especially enjoyable to William H. Halbert, of Kenmare, North Dakota, who has not visited this section of the country in the past twelve years, was the first annual reunion of the Halbert family, held Sunday at Cascade Park.

Mr. Halbert has been in New Castle for the past couple weeks, staying at the home of his sister, Mrs. George Glass, of East North street. Equally happy to the large group of 65 relatives, was the pleasure of seeing the Western visitor, as well as many other relatives who do not see much of each other, as many of them reside out of town.

In this number were Dr. B. F. Glas and family, Youngstown; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Machen and family, Ithaca, N. Y.; J. W. Machen and family, New Kensington; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Eakin and family, Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Polney and family, Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Wood and children, also of Cleveland.

Halbert, Midland, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. James Harkness, Stoops Ferry, Pa.; John Cunningham, Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Body, Pittsburgh.

Both dinner and supper were served in the sheltered grove, the afternoon between being spent reminiscing and rambling about the park.

Miss Lottie Young Honored

Miss Lottie Young, East street, was guest of honor at a delightful surprise Saturday evening, when a group of friends gathered at her residence to help celebrate her birthday anniversary. Twenty-five participated, including several from Slippery Rock, Grove City, Harrisville and the immediate vicinity.

Tables of 500 and other contests were avenues of diversion during the earlier hours, and later, an especially originated game was featured, which provided a medium for the honored guest in finding a collection of attractively wrapped packages. When opened, they disclosed a number of lovely gifts for Miss Young's personal use.

As a concluding feature, the guests were served a tasty collation, by Lois Renick and Alberta Young, with appointments being developed in a color theme of green and white. The birthday motif prevailed throughout, with a large cake aglow with candles, forming the table centerpiece.

ADVERTISING AND PROGRESS

ADVERTISING has proven itself to be the barometer of progress.

It has not been long since business advertising was as severely criticized and ridiculed as boasting of personal qualifications. At the same time there was as little faith in the claims of advertisements as in the claims of the braggart. Only the quack and the impostor, who had everything to gain and nothing to lose, then resorted to advertising.

Business is ever the standard bearer and apostle of progress, and so it was business which discovered that advertising was a vital factor in all growth. When advertising was admitted to the fireside of business it was not the big business of today. Big business traces its beginning with its employment of advertising.

In its conversion to advertising business was soon followed by industry, commerce and the professions. The benefits of advertising had made themselves manifest in each step forward.

That was the evolution of advertising, until today advertising plays a part in every phase of life and is the working instrument of all except the doctor and the lawyer, who still consider it "unethical" to advertise for business. He may place his "card" in the newspaper, but it is professionally forbidden for the doctor or the lawyer to inform the public of his capabilities.

Nothing in life has attained perfection and evolution as an eternal, ever-continuing advancement. The evolution of advertising will not stop with its adoption by medicine and jurisprudence, but that adoption will establish another milestone of progress.

PRICES ARE NOT UP

Reports of influence of the drought on prices of necessities, extensively circulated by speculative interests, are not justified by the markets. Singularly enough, though widest publicity has been given to the dire need of the drought districts and the certainty of falling crops and sacrifice of livestock, prices have failed to respond to the customary stimulus.

No better proof could be found of the enormous reserve capabilities of American agriculture. Though no season on record has been so unfavorable to growth of foodstuffs over large areas of the country, no shortage has been experienced and speculative markets do not indicate the shortage is expected.

HORSESHOES

Two thousand years ago a Roman slave tossed a horse shoe in emulation of the aristocratic discus thrower, and thus an ancient honorable game of horseshoes or quoits was born. After all, quoits are horseshoes gone expensive.

Never in the twenty centuries that have since elapsed has the pastime been out of favor although it has had its lapses from universal popularity.

For its present revival two things are chiefly responsible. The need for inexpensive amusements, and expanding waitlines. In fields, backyards, parks, playgrounds and vacant lots summer evenings from men of all ages tossing horseshoes or upish quoits to get out of doing something that costs money or to keep the waitline under control.

The health value of this homely pastime is not generally understood. In an evening of quoits one will walk several miles, do bending exercises equivalent to a week's morning calisthenics and work most of the muscles of the arm, shoulders and back. It is effective but not strenuous exercise.

Strange as it seems, man's gambling instinct has never shown itself in this game. Nor has it ever been commercialized. These facts may help to explain the long popularity of the game.

EVERY DAY BRAINS

Dr. Karl G. Miller, University of Pennsylvania psychologist, recently gave public utterance to a thought that is now new but surprisingly novel in expression. Many have thought it without daring to express it. As expressed by Doctor Miller it is:

"The American college must recognize more fully its responsibilities to the student whose interests are not primarily intellectual as well as to the prospective scholar. From my contact with the parents of boys seeking admission to the university, I feel that the proud father wants his son to go through a ripening process, to make many contacts, to become interested in many things, to have a good deal of fun and to do reasonably well in his studies.

"Unless I am mistaken, the inculcation of true scholarship, the love of learning, the inspiration for research—these do not appear in the definition of college education as it exists in the minds of prospective students and their parents."

Had the professor's candor gone a little bit farther he might have said that it is just as well, for how many institutions of higher learning could meet the scholarly needs of the inspired student and how many profound scholars could the world absorb without starving them?

The modern conception of a college and university is not a place where erudite professors are made, but a factory for the development of everyday brains and culture.

Island Of Old Legends.

Girls Become Wolves.

Dancing Sorceresses.

Mysterious Noirmoutier.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

A PREVIOUS ARTICLE, if you read it, introduced you to the island of Noirmoutier, off the southwest coast of France, lying in the Atlantic Ocean.

You walk from the heavy drudge woods of Pere la Chaise to the edge of the ocean, where the fishermen spread out their nets of bright blue cord to dry, and fishermen wade out at low tide to gather mussels, sold in the shell for two cents a quart.

If you ask one of them what is the next land, they reply, "l'Amérique est là-bas," "America is over there."

Many of the fishing people, those past 50, especially, not only tell you about the old legends of the island, they also believe them.

There was the unfortunate garache, the young girl, cruel or unfaithful to her deserving lover, changed into a big black dog, or female wolf. Unless repentance and a miracle restored them to their natural shape, such girls were doomed to run howling through the woods and along the shore, longing for death, until killed.

Only a special bullet, properly blessed, could kill them, which made it difficult.

There was also the garou, or loup garou, "wolf garou." He was a young man turned into a black wolf or dog as punishment for crime or disobedience to his betters.

There were dwarfed lutins, some that lived in the sea could bring you treasures if they liked you, many sorts that lived on the land. One particular kind had the unpleasant habit of dragging corpses through the streets with loud cries.

THE EBRILLARDS or "noisy ones," spirits of those that had died a violent death, wandered through the night, repeating the cries of agony with which they had died, often from age to age.

The old fishing women even yet sometimes hear them howling in the wind on long winter nights. As they go they beg for the prayers of others that they may find rest, and they do it eventually.

There were, and according to the belief of many, still are sorcerers and sorceresses. They are looked upon as pariahs, outcasts, feared, hated, never touched. It is a form of our ancient respectable belief in witchcraft.

If you meet one in your path, to avoid destruction you must immediately make the sign of the cross, seize a piece of earth, and hold it above your head, because "between two pieces of earth, the ground under your feet and the piece held above your head, no evil spirit can harm you."

Holding the earth above your head was also a sign of submission, indicating to the sorcerer that you

"THE PRINCIPLE OF THE THING"

There's a useful phrase. When you're doing something and you're a little uneasy about it, you say, "I'm doing it for the principle of the thing." That's your defense. That explains everything.

You'd like to be kinder, you'd like to be more generous, but the Principle of the Thing stands in your way, and, of course, a man can't go against his principles.

When we do something decent, when we help another fellow out of a jam, we don't talk so much about our principles. We explain that he is a fine human being and he appealed to our sympathies—and, besides, we wouldn't have been able to sleep at night if we had withheld our helping hand.

But the Principle of the Thing is quite different. Almost always when we talk of that, we feel on the defensive. We are explaining. We are trying to put ourselves in a plea not guilty—not guilty of selfishness, not guilty of wanting our own way at the expense of the other fellow.

Once, I remember, I got into a row with a business firm. I wanted something. The firm didn't want to give it to me. I felt abused. They felt they were right. I hung on and argued. They argued back. I wrote letters. They answered them for days, and at last, I won or they grew tired of the squabble and let me win. . . . And then I felt ashamed. . . . The whole trouble was over a dollar and a half. But I never admitted, even once, even to myself, that I was fighting for a dollar and a half. No, I was fighting for the Principle of the Thing.

I was carrying the banner for the innocent, blameless, incorruptible public. . . . So I won, and the victory was hollow and rankling.

I'm not the only one, either. Look back over your own life. Think of all those times when you wanted something and couldn't have it and insisted on getting it because of the Principle of the Thing. . . . And then blush!

Old Line Democrats Cause Concern.
President Worried By Old Liners.
Social Visit To Welles Is Cited.

By LESLIE EICHEL

Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Of course the Roosevelt campaign management's story is that it is not the least bit worried by the hostility of such old-fashioned Democrats as those who met recently in Detroit to denounce the New Deal as the antithesis of Jeffersonianism.

Nevertheless there are hints that the White House considers the disgruntled element's influence strong enough to be worth a little counter-acting.

One of these hints is to be seen in President Roosevelt's so-called "social visit," toward the middle of August, at Assistant Secretary of State Sumner Welles' Maryland estate, near Washington. If that visit wasn't political rather than social there is nothing in inside information.

SECRET CONFERENCE

In the first place, the president seemingly preferred not to have it known that he planned to drop in on Welles.

He disappeared from the executive mansion quite suddenly unknown to the correspondents, who are supposed to be informed of his every movement. They learned that he was gone, however, soon after his departure, and began asking questions. The answer was forthcoming that he was on his way to see Secretary of War George W. Dern, a patient at Walter Reed hospital.

No doubt this was true, but, from Walter Reed, he went on to Welles' place.

A "PEP" TALK
If it had been just an ordinary call, even that would not have been so bad, from the correspondents' standpoint.

But it subsequently was ascertained that the president met some twenty leading Democrats at Welles' and gave them a vigorous "pep" talk, impressing upon them the urgent necessity that they "get busy" politically.

Even yet we haven't arrived at the climax.

The part of the yarn thus outlined has been told already. There's another chapter.

"OLD-LINERS" SCOLDED
The president tormented with the twenty leading Democratic Marylanders as a sequel to a letter he had written to the head of the young Democratic Maryland organization, pointing out to them that their older folk seemed New Deal-ishly clammy, and expressing his hope that, if the latter continued to be indifferent or "worse," the youngsters would come to the rescue.

The youngsters, it appears, took the matter up with the oldsters, and such of the latter as are not too far off the reservation, considerably mortified by the presidential reflection upon their indifference in the pending campaign, arranged for a meeting with their party leader, to be scolded.

This is all right as far as it goes, but it implies that even moderately loyal old-time Democrats need scolding, and it raises the question: Will scolding convert the whole old-time Democratic element?

A TEST STATE
Maryland is only one state, to be sure. It doesn't cast many electoral votes, either.

Yet notably it is a test state. It almost always has been on the winning side since the Civil War. It is something like Maine, "As Maine goes," the saying is, "so goes the nation." Marylanders also seem to be extraordinary good guessers.

The Free State likewise is conspicuously old-time Democratic.

It is so much so that sometimes it goes Republican, from resentment at New Deal policies. Followers of the late Democratic Governor Albert C. Ritchie are anti-New Deal-ers. So are followers of ex-Senator William C. Bruce. Present Senator Millard E. Tydings ostensibly is pro-administration but he has opposed all its policies. Incidentally he was not at Sumner Welles' gathering; he was vacationing elsewhere.

Maryland, then, is a "typical state," as Postmaster General James A. Farley expressed it, where insurgent Democracy needs to be taken into account by the New Deal Democratic philosophers.

Are they worried?
At least I'd say they are giving the subject a thought.

I wonder could I do it and not bitterly complain.

Invite Landon And Roosevelt To Dedication

Montgomery Island Dam To Be Dedicated On Saturday, August 29th

ROCHESTER, Pa., Aug. 18.—Telegrams have been sent President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas, Republican presidential nominee, inviting their participation in the celebration of the completion of the five and one-half million dollar Montgomery Island dam and the creation of the 18 mile pool in the Ohio river through Beaver county, to be held Saturday, August 29.

Word today from Col. Roger G. Powell, division engineer of the War Department, United States Engineer office at Cincinnati, Ohio, conveyed the information that he would be present together with all district engineers from Nashville, Tenn., to Pittsburgh, Brigadier General George R. Spaulding, now attached to the general staff of the War Department at Washington, advised today that army maneuvers throughout the United States would probably prevent his attendance. It was General Spaulding who conceived the idea of the location of the dam in Beaver county, long before the actual construction work was begun more than four and one-half years ago.

Parking Free On Landon Day

Somewhat later than you might expect, the silly rumor season is on. On Monday the rumor was abroad in New Castle that a five dollar parking fee would be charged at West Middlesex on Saturday, August 22.

Parking will be free. The national committee of the Republican party has reserved an area around the Tam-O-Shanter golf club which is large enough to accommodate 25,000 automobiles and no charge will be made.

Further, no food or refreshment stand on the hundreds of acres leased by the national committee will charge more than the ordinary prices. Pop will be five cents, milk five cents, ham sandwiches a dime and hog dog sandwiches a nickel.

Rumors about unusual conditions at West Middlesex should be promptly scotched. There is no charge for anything unless a visitor buys a lunch or a soft drink.

(International News Service)
ASHVILLE, N. C., Aug. 18.—Solicitor Zeb V. Nettles, of Buncombe county prepared to hand to the grand jury today two bills of indictment against Martin Moore, 22 year old negro, charged with the brutal hotel-room murder of pretty 19-year old Helen Clevenger, New York co-ed.

Nettles said he planned to present the jury with one bill charging Moore with murder and another charging first degree robbery—both of which carry death penalty in North Carolina.

The negro is scheduled to go on trial Wednesday for the slaying of the New York University honor student, who was found shot and beaten to death in her fashionable Battery Park hotel room last month. She had been on a vacation tour of the state with her uncle, W. C. Clevenger, professor at North Carolina University.

State College Expert At Lawrence County Forum

Fred N. Grau of State College delighted an interested audience with his lecture on "Lawn" which was the special feature of the Garden Forum meeting in the North street school auditorium.

Many interesting developments in the care of lawns were related in stressing turf management and weed control. Three cardinal principles of management are: First, Use of time, now recognized as essential to lawn needs; second, use of a balanced fertilizer which should contain a proper amount of phosphorus, the proportion recommended being 25 pounds to 1,000 square feet. This may be approximated in any balanced fertilizer in the following formula, 5-10-5 or preferably 4-12-4.

Third, High cutting of grass which results in better grass growth and less weeds. High cutting (1½ inches, instead of the usual ½ inch) helps to conserve food and moisture, especially when clippings are allowed to lie on lawn thus serving as a mulch.

Weed control may be obtained by the use of two chemicals: (1) sodium chlorate; (2) sodium arsenite.

Here Mr. Grau warned his audience that it is safer to have this work done by one skilled in the use of chemicals, as the controls are apt to be disastrous in the hands of the amateur.

For destroying isolated weeds, a mixture of sodium arsenite and dry sand may be used in proportion, one part sodium arsenite to 20 parts dry sand, using a pinch of this on the crown of the weed. Ragweed may ing of the door prize, with Mrs. G. S. Jenkins being the fortunate winner. In bingo Mrs. Frank R. Doyle and Mrs. Walter Gilmore received the trophies.

Special guests of the occasion included Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Black, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dean, Dorothy Cromie and B. E. Carlson.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY IS SUNDAY EVENT

The main hall of the Ukrainian church on the corner of Rose and Stanton avenues, was the scene of a very gala celebration Sunday in honor of the silver wedding anniversary of the Rev. and Mrs. Maxim Maruschak.

The hall was gaily decorated in Ukrainian colors of yellow and blue and the table around which 75 friends gathered at 1 o'clock for a delightful dinner, was also decorated in these colors.

At the conclusion of dinner, Rev. and Mrs. Maruschak were honored with the presentation of a number of lovely silver gifts and a beautiful basket of flowers. The latter was presented in behalf of those present by Katherine and Junior Vazalinski. A large wedding cake was another gift, Miss Volga Buly expressing appreciation in behalf of the church members.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Maruschak's brother, Joe Volkowski and son Ladislav of Cleveland, O., and Mrs. and Mr. Maschack and son Joe from Ellwood. The latter couple honored Rev. and Mrs. Maruschak on Saturday in their home in Ellwood City.

SPECTACULAR FIRE DESTROYS BIG BARN

MORE FORTUNATE and more popular are les toucheurs, "The Touchers," who have the power of curing illness by laying on of hands, a power that once belonged to kings. You learn from Paine that the official report of the crowning of Louis XVI included careful statements as to the number he had immediately cured by laying on of hands. No hands were able to cure him, poor man, after the guillotine got him.

IT IS a dangerous sign in this island when those little corpse-dragging dwarfs ring a bell as they go along, for that means another death; a bad sign also if a church bell rings without any hands touching it.

Those still living have seen the dames blanches, "white ladies," howling in the night at church doors, seeking salvation and relief. There are the betes pharmines, hideous monsters that even yet may be seen in the clouds—they don't come to the island any more.

As to the loup garou, his existence is proved. A young bridegroom of the island village of Barbatre, who did something wrong and disappeared immediately after the wedding, was changed into a big, black dog and went to live at the house of his supposed widow. And, very intelligently, bit the legs of men that came courting his wife, thinking him dead. The proof was convincing.

One day he seized in his teeth the knitting on which his "widow" was working, jumped out of the window with it and never came back. But very soon a handsome young man came in, the husband returned to life, and said to his wife, "I was the black dog that you had here all this time watching you," and to prove it he produced the knitting that he had taken with him. No infidel could ask for better proof than that.

VERY INTERESTING were the fierce women that once had this island all to themselves. They were Druid priestesses that lived in the dark woods, celebrated strange mystic rites that would shock you, and allowed no man on the island. Once a year they visited the mainland, and became acquainted with gentlemen there.

They had one unpleasant custom in connection with the annual ceremony at which they tore down the stone roof of their temple and rebuilt it. This was done for exercise and to keep the temple in fine shape. In the rebuilding, every priestess was compelled to bring her piece of stone to help with the new roof. If any woman dropped her piece of stone as she carried it, she was immediately set upon and killed by the others.

There are a thousand other superstitions that go back to the days of ancient Greece and far before. The tales of the island are full of them. Mr. and Mrs

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Much At Stake In Foreign War

Upsets To Neutrality May Come About Through "Minor Things"

HULL POLICIES NOW PREVAILING

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S plea for absolute neutrality, made in an address at Chautauqua, N. Y., has met with a strongly favorable reaction in the middle west. This region of the United States, more than any other region, is opposed to being "trapped into" any more European wars.

Yet it is this region, of all regions, which is offered the greatest temptations to violation of neutrality.

The president did not hesitate to point out that "fool's gold" caused many a farmer and many a manufacturer to "increase business" by selling to countries at war. That is visible. There are, however, invisible dealings, perhaps innocently negotiated, whose sum total may measure up more than the large, open dealings.

For example, it is not improbable that large plants in the mid-west are furnishing parts to European factories for use in war materials for either the loyalists or the rebels in Spain. The rebels have more money, therefore can buy more planes, thus they probably are obtaining the larger share. Thus, through an accumulation of events, collection for these parts depends in the long run on victory for the Fascist rebel forces (although fascism is derided as something abhorrent to American democracy).

Furthermore, there are holding companies in the United States, with stockholders throughout America, that have large properties in countries abroad. International Telephone & Telegraph has a large subsidiary in Spain. It is frankly stated in Wall Street that victory of the rebel Fascist cause would "stabilize" I. T. & T. properties.

Thus thousands of American stockholders begin to have a stake in a civil war in Spain—a civil war that threatens to engulf all of Europe. And these Americans are cast on the side of the Fascists.

EDUCATION

President Roosevelt spoke for education and tolerance as among the chief essentials to peace. In brief, an understanding and a friendship that would remove prejudices and intolerances.

Perhaps in the future, when people look back on this age, they may say that this was the age of the beginning of tolerance, when intolerance had reached its peak.

People in Tennessee assert with a great deal of pride that the perspective of time will crown their own Cordell Hull, secretary of state, as one who led an insane world back to sanity.

HULL'S ROLE

Cordell Hull is a strange figure. He has the chief cabinet post in the New Deal. But he is not part of the New Deal. In his earlier months he was humiliated and all but defeated in his efforts by New Deal tactics. Raymond Moley seemed to be administering the state department, with orders directly from the White House.

Cordell Hull, however, is tenacious, determined and persistent. Moley disappeared. He is, in fact, an anti-New Dealer now.

And Cordell Hull's policies seem to prevail completely. He is the man making possible President Roosevelt's "good neighbor" policy.

The president speaks more highly of Hull than any other cabinet member. And his standing in foreign circles is the highest probably of any foreign minister.

As a congressman and as a senator Cordell Hull spoke fearlessly for years for a policy of international good-will through economic peace. Again the bitterest of attacks, he has instituted that policy into American relations. His reciprocal treaties merely are the beginning. He hopes by example to set a pace for the world.

Thus, a man not regarded as a New Dealer, may put over the most successful of all policies of the New Deal administration. And not only publicly, but privately, does President Roosevelt give praise to Cordell Hull, who was all but cast out at the beginning of the New Deal.

AROUND CITY HALL

Mayor Charles E. McGrath made it quite obvious during councilmanic meeting Monday that he does not measure health in dollars and cents and in speaking of the Quest street situation, where it is alleged sewage bubbles upward through bricks, the mayor said "the health of the community comes first." City solicitors always have instructed city hall folks not to do any work in alleys or on sewers because once this occurs, the city becomes liable for maintenance. It appears there are several private sewers in Quest street. One of them is broken. To determine where may require weeks during which chemicals will be placed in sewers in the different homes and city engineers or sewer workers must take a check each day to discover what sewer is broken. The mayor and council have decided to ask the city solicitor, William Cobau, as to the city's liability if they make an investigation and it now looks as though something will be done to prevent probable disease.

Report that the city has rented a shovel and that dredging of Big Run will soon get under way will be welcome news to South Siders who suffered from Big Run flood waters.

Joe Lief, South Side businessman has suggested to council that the city ask the businessmen of that section to sweep their stores before closing at night and that the sweepings not be swept upon the sidewalk.

Two business concerns who did not include certified checks in presenting bids for North street material to the city yesterday received no consideration. Mayor Charles E. McGrath arguing that the firms were not qualified to present bids, not having fulfilled city requirements.

Police have been ordered to make a check on cars which park in alleys. In case of fire, should a fire truck attempt to go through some of them the firemen would be blocked.

Complaint of dust from Cascade boulevard was made before council yesterday. The complaint came from a person, living outside the city who said that not long ago they had their house painted and the dust has proved a nuisance. In years gone by calcium chloride was placed on the boulevard which is a lane to a city-owned park. The city council did not put on calcium chloride this year owing to lack of money. Complaints of dust and speeding on that thoroughfare have been made at different times. Council has asked the city solicitor if it were the duty of the city to keep down the dust.

Council has authorized the proper city authorities to sign an agreement with the county of Lawrence whereby the latter shall pay an amount up to $4,000, as their share of cost for materials at the Airport. The agreement now will be sent to the commissioners of the county for their signatures.

Ed. Umbright, collector of garbage yesterday stated that his department is now ready to handle the garbage situation better than at any time since he took hold of the job. He declared the furnaces are in good shape, a force of men, headed by himself having worked all day Sunday to put them in shape. Asked if he were fearful of the canning season garbage, he replied negatively in no uncertain manner. Garbage collection complaints here have been very few, according to M. J. Rice, director of health.

Councilman James L. Fink is in favor of attending the Third Class cities convention at Lancaster next month. He had the courage yesterday to come out flatfooted and declare there are many things connected with city government of which he would like to know more, believing it would benefit the citizens. Councilman B. F. Butler also said that the cities should inquire into the city treasurer's bond situation at the convention and Joseph Alexander, director of parks and buildings said that he believed it would be better for all members to go to the convention than for only one to attend the sessions. City Clerk C. Ed. Brown suggested that the city solicitor, William Cobau also attend. In connection with the suggestion, it might be recalled that the former solicitor, Robert White, one of the best posted men on Third class city law in the state, always attended the law committee sessions of the league. It is very probable that Solicitor Cobau will be sent to the convention as will probably the city engineer, Glenn R. Throop.

Railroads have repaid $155,292,399 of the loans made by the Reconstruction Finance corporation, of which amount $64,325,436 was repaid in the first seven months of this year, or more than was repaid in any of the preceding four calendar years.

Fifty-two instruments of all kinds were entered at the register and recorder's office last week. Of this number 30 were deeds and 11 were mortgages. Five of the mortgages were to individuals and the balance to trust companies and building and loans.

Court Stenographer F. M. Rowland and wife and several members of their family, left today for Algonquin Park, Canada, where they will spend a vacation.

Road supervisors of Neshannock township presented a petition to court asking for the approval of a road known as Hugo Terrace in the James W. Barnes plot, formerly known as Morewood Heights plan. The road, or street, leads off the New Castle-New Wilmington road to the west, a distance of 448.63 feet. It was taken over by the township upon petition of citizens, but the approval of the court was needed to make it a part of the township highway system. The permission was granted.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard is taking a great interest in the formation of a delegation to attend the Landon meeting at West Middlesex next Saturday. The procession is to form on the Rosena furnace lot. Many who have been planning to drive to West Middlesex but who have been feeling a little timid lest they get tied up in a traffic jam, are planning to form a part of this procession, as it is felt that it will be in charge of competent traffic men. Arrangements have already been made for parking.

Deputy Prothonotary, Miss Emma Carson, has returned from a vacation trip which included visits to New York, Atlantic City and other eastern points.

Miss Edith Cowden, stenographer in the registration bureau, has returned from a vacation spent in Erie, Pa.

Attorney William McElwee, Jr., has sent the following timely comment on an item recently appearing in the Court House Hill column: "I read with interest your note from the Court House Hill about the unnamed attorney who criticized the policy of Joseph in Egypt. Not knowing the attorney's name, I have a right to assume that he is a much better Bible student than I am. However, I believe that a careful reading of the whole story of Joseph in Egypt without stopping in the middle of it will convince anyone that Jom Farley and his associates and his chief exhibit have read that whole story and not only comprehended it, but saw in it the basis for their plan to get a strange hold on this country.

The only real difference is that Joseph did nothing to cause the famine or to accelerate its arrival; and he used funds discretely accumulated in advance, whereas the present Democratic regime has done everything in its power to make an artificial famine and has mortgaged our children and our children's children until the third and fourth generation for the funds with which to corrupt the public.

After the famine came, both Joseph and Jim and Delano knew that the Devil was almost right when he said: "All that a man hath will he give for his life." Joseph and Jim and Delano alike, in the midst of the famine, exchanged food for a surrender of liberty. An Egyptian, under Joseph, had to give up his birthright and sell himself as a slave to the dictator in order to receive food. In the present Wallace-made famine, the American people are first brow-beaten and frightened by the deliberate wrecking of our currency and our economic structure; business is paralyzed almost beyond recovery by "protracted mutilation" and brief "breathing spells," and

BOTH PARTIES POINT TO ASSEMBLY DEFECTS

Each Point To 'Petty Politics'

Party Orators Prepare To "Point With Scorn" At Other's Faults

POLITICS IN WPA TO BE REVIEWED

By J. WILLIAM THEIS
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Aug. 18.—Busy hands stirred the ashes of legislative political fires today in preparation for the impending campaign and the November election.

Within a few short weeks, according to political observers, still-glowing embers of partisan discord from the recent special session of the legislature will be fanned into hot issues for the election drive.

Resume Hostilities.
The resumption of aggressive party hostilities will be touched off by the naming of investigating committees sponsored by the Republican and Democratic legislatures and approved by both houses of the general assembly. The first appointments, it was learned, may come this week.

Back of these, however, were seen the more general political results of the session as will be reflected in the campaign claims of both parties.

Both Republicans and Democrats have indicated, first, that "killing" of the unemployment insurance bill in the recent session will be used as a vote-getting argument by each camp. The jobless insurance measure died in committee through a deadlock over division of appointive powers under the act, and cost Pennsylvania taxpayers an estimated $22,000,000 in lost refunds this year alone.

Gov. George H. Earle already has charged that the unemployment insurance bill was "sacrificed on the altar of petty Republican politics," and Sen. James J. Coyne, Allegheny Republican, who is chairman of the insurance committee in which the measure died, already has answered that the administration "scorned efforts toward a compromise" on the bill and killed it for "purely political purposes."

Politics In WPA?

Early Democratic campaign orators are pointing a finger of scorn too, at the Republican effort to prove the existence of politics in the Works Progress Administration thru the medium of a revived senate investigating committee. Branded by administration spokesmen as a "fixed jury," the so-called Owlett committee probing WPA was halted by federal court order. Re-augmented in a modified form, the investigation is to continue, however, with its all-Republican committee.

Out of the session record Democrats are prepared also to draw charges that the Republican senate majority killed the administration chain store tax bill in the interest of "big business" and generally conducted a campaign of "obstruction" against administration measures.

Republicans gained from the session at least three campaign "talking points" which they regard as proof that a "poisoned pudding" is being served up by the Earle administration.

GOP candidates and campaign spokesmen find substantiation in the session for these claims:
1.—That charges of "rampant waste and extravagance" in the Earle administration were borne out by Governor Earle's agreement to a $45,000,000 relief appropriation after originally having demanded $71,000,000 for unemployment needs.

Shy At Investigation.
2.—That refusal of state and federal WPA officials to "open the door" to senate investigators was conclusive proof that WPA functions on a strictly political basis; further, that testimony produced in the brief investigation disclosed evidence of such politics in the works program.

3.—That the three weeks "hunger strike" of the state capitol, denounced by all Republicans and some Democrats, was a "part of a studied plot" by the administration to force a breakdown of relief.

The hunger marchers who camped at the capitol, Republicans charge, were led by communists invited and encouraged by Democratic leaders.

In addition to these major issues, both Republicans and Democrats are "saving up" scores of minor political grievances that flared in house and senate during the 14 weeks of the extraordinary session. By early September, when the campaign will become forcefully active on both sides, these also will be brought into the open.

The radio gives you the candidate's oratory. Then next day you can read what newspaper and find out what he said.

WHY PUT UP WITH PIMPLES, WRINKLES AND A SALLOW SKIN?

So many women throw their charm and beauty away—look years older than they are—because they neglect common constipation. They forget that badly balanced meals, over a period of years, can change how they look and feel.

Often their menus lack the "bulk" needed for regular habits. Then constipation, the beauty-killer, sets in. Other effects may be headaches, listlessness, sleeplessness.

Get "bulk" back into your meals with a delicious cereal: Kellogg's All-Bran. It absorbs moisture within the body, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily, either as a cereal or in cooked dishes. All-Bran is guaranteed. Try it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Fire Prevention Week Announced

Attention Of Citizens Called To Annual Observance During October

CITY OFFERING MORE PROTECTION

Fire prevention week, which will be observed throughout the nation, will occur during the week of October 4 to 10. Fire Chief A. P. McIlwain announced today, and urges citizens to take more than passing notice of the occasion.

Chief McIlwain and Public Safety Director Rice have been preparing for the winter season with the thought of giving the citizens of New Castle better protection against fires than they have ever had.

All the fire apparatus of the city is being gone over and put in first class condition during the slack season. Several of the trucks are having booster lines attached and the engines are being given a thorough overhauling by City Mechanic Charles Colton.

The attention of the citizens is directed at the present in having the furnace equipment put in first class condition for the winter. During the summer, the smoke pipes, leading from the furnace to the chimney often rot through from the moisture gathering in soot inside.

When the soot takes fire after a fire is put in the furnace, the smoke pipe gives way and if inflammable material is near, a fire can easily start.

Many other fire hazards will be found about the home if the citizens only look for them. It is a lot easier to start a fire sometimes than it is to put out. Chief McIlwain states, and it is as much to the interest of the citizens to see that no fire hazards exist in his home, as it is to demand good protection against fire.

Cancel Plans For Parade Saturday

Fear Traffic Will Be Tied Up Enough Without Adding To It

(International News Service)
WEST MIDDLESEX, Pa. Aug. 17.—There will be no parade here Saturday in honor of Gov. Alfred M. Landon, Republican presidential nominee, who comes back to his old home town that day to open his campaign.

The "no parade" decision was arrived at by the local committee on arrangements who said today they feared such a procession might further snarl traffic, which already bids fair to present quite a problem. Upwards of 100,000 visitors are expected to be on hand to welcome the governor.

Another matter settled by the committee today was the naming of Danny Briella's Pittsburgh aggregation the official band for the day.

The department conducted an extensive inquiry into administration of both agencies at the request of the president. The latter asked the study be made following recurrent discussion between WPA Administrator Harry Hopkins and PWA Administrator Harold L. Ickes.

The investigation was conducted under the direction of Budget Director Daniel Bell, who enlisted the services of the treasury's procurement division.

A thorough canvass of relief costs under both agencies was made through the field. Officials indicated that the report probably would not be made public.

Wampum To Enforce Speed Limit Law

Constable Tally Says Citizens Are Aroused At Gross Violations Of Law

Constable Marion Tally of Wampum, who was at the sheriff's office this morning, stated that officials of Wampum propose to enforce the speed laws. The borough has been posted with signs for some time, but Tally says the motorists pay little or no attention to them, and every day cars go through the borough at high and dangerous rates of speed.

"It is only a question of time," says Tally until someone will be killed. It has become dangerous to cross the streets. We do not like to have to arrest motorists, but we are determined to break up the habit of speeding through the borough. If necessary we will establish speed traps.

"Signs showing the speed limit to be 20 miles per hour have been posted from the northern extremity of the borough south through Crescentdale. We propose to enforce the speed limit all the way. Citizens of Wampum are aroused on the question and demand that something be done."

Constables Take Them Into Custody At Centennial Field

When two youths attempted to crash the fence at the wrestling match at Centennial field last night they were promptly taken into custody by constables who were employed by Promoter Peter Askounes to protect his property and also the property of persons witnessing the bout. They were taken to the city police station. Promoter Askounes intends to hire a force of officers at every wrestling match, he said.

(International News Service) ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Aug. 18.—Republicans of New Mexico today assailed the administration of Governor Charles W. Haygood in a speech by John Hamilton, chairman of the G. O. P. national committee last night that the Roosevelt administration is trying to "Tugwellize America" as a damaging blow at the New Dealers. Delivering the keynote address to the state Republican convention, Hamilton said the choice the American people must make at the polls next November is: "Between Governor Landon, a man who believes the American people still possess the resources of initiative and character to manage their own lives as they have managed them with marked success for a century and a half."

together with that of other Roundhead association officers, was honored.

The dinner program opened when T. Bert Wagner, vice president of the organization, presented Fred L. Rantz as the toastmaster of the day's program.

Mayor Speaks
Mr. Rantz paid tribute to the patriotic association he was addressing and then introduced Mayor Charles E. McGrath, who delivered the city's official greetings to the group.

In behalf of the Central Presbyterian church, District Attorney Mont L. Alley brought greetings after the mayor had spoken. The greetings of the 134th regiment were brought by Col. W. W. Stevenson.

An interesting part of the program was the reading of the minutes of the 1935 Roundhead meeting by Miss Laura M. Stevenson, honorary secretary and the lady who bears much of the load of the association's activities. Miss Anna I. Gilliland, secretary-treasurer of the association, also presented her annual report.

The memorial service, conducted by Judge James A. Chambers, was the main feature of the afternoon.

Honor was paid to the memory of five Roundhead men who died during the past twelve months, three Roundhead men who died in the year preceding and to the memory of Ralph M. Campbell, the county's prothonotary for years who was also a vice president of the Roundhead association.

Those honored in the impressive service included the following:
Company A—Lamuel Harris.
Company B—William Wyle Gibbons.

Company F—Henderson G. Sharp, Cornaby G. Burchfield Perrine, Portland, Ore.
Company M—Samuel McClure, Elizabeth, Pa.
Company B—John B. Rayle, Beaver Falls.
Company E—Almeron Everett, Newport, Ky.

Company H—Thomas Sly, Decatur, Ill.

In behalf of Dr. Gyla McDowell, Geneva history professor who is chairman of the Roundhead's history committee, Miss Rebecca Browne presented the history committee's report. The membership report of Miss Frances McDowell's committee was offered by Miss Della Gilman.

At the close the group heard several letters from Roundhead survivors who were unable to attend this year's reunion.

Music By Welch
Music for the reunion exercises was led today by Homer Maxwell Welch, Grove City, grandson of Col. Norman J. Maxwell, member of the Roundhead regiment. Assisting Mr. Welch at the piano and organ was Miss Helen Ewing.

Introduced to the reunion group were the two widows of Roundhead soldiers in attendance, Mrs. R. M. Wellar, the widow of the first lieutenant of Company C, who came from Chicago, and Mrs. E. M. McMillen, the widow of the first lieutenant of Company F, a resident of New Castle.

One of the closing features of the afternoon assembly was to be the annual election of officers.

James P. Sankey, the Crafton veteran, is the present president and Judge Chambers, W. H. Dunlap and T. Bert Wagner are vice presidents, while Miss Stevenson is honorary secretary and Miss Anna I. Gilliland is secretary-treasurer.

Dr. J. J. McIlvaine of the First Presbyterian church, gave the dinner invocation today.

Man Hunted For Questioning In Fatal Shooting

(International News Service) SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 18.—State police scoured the farming lands near Hopbottom today for Glenn Mathewson, 35, wanted for questioning in the slaying of Arthur Johnson, his 53-year-old step-father.

Troopers called in the Johnson home last night by neighbors found Johnson dead from a 44 calibre revolver bullet in the back. His 70-year-old wife was too hysterical to speak coherently but authorities learned Mathewson had been at the house a short time before the shooting.

Missing with the stepson was the Johnson family car. Neighbors told police "bad blood" had existed between Johnson and his stepson, just one year the victim's junior.

JAPANESE NAVAL BUDGET INCREASED

(International News Service) TOKYO, Aug. 18.—Representing an increase of about $30,000,000, Japan's naval estimates for 1937-38 amount to $230,000,000, it was learned today.

The increase will presumably be used for new warship construction.

JIM'S HOSS MAY BE CHAMPION

Braddock Has Split Knuckle

Champion James J. Braddock Calls Off Fight With Schmeling For Indefinite Time

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Battling tonight for a crack at the world heavyweight title, Jack Sharkey and Joe Louis saw their goal shoved far into the background today as champion Jim Braddock called off his title defense against Max Schmeling Sept. 26 and prepared to enter a hospital for an operation on his left hand.

A split knuckle, requiring immediate surgical attention and long treatment, will force the Braddock-Schmeling bout into next year, probably in June, with Sharkey or Louis to get the winner in September, 1937, according to the Braddock camp.

The champion needed only boxing commission approval, to be sought later today, to definitely postpone his defense against Schmeling, a bolt of gloom for Sharkey and Louis which descended today out of otherwise bright skies smiling down for their meeting in Yankee stadium.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 18.—The Public Service commission on Monday granted permission to the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad to construct a temporary grade crossing on state highway route 444, Mahoning township, Lawrence county.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Ran-domising: Whenever I stop in at the Public Library I'm constrained to take a peek at the Mickey Mouse art display....Ten years ago the highbrows would have sniffed at the possibility of a comic character getting such solemn attention....The present exhibit, by the way, will tour the branch libraries of the land after it has goggled New Yorkers for awhile....Vignette: the beautiful girl with the Harlow tresses sunk in a pile of heavy tomes in the genealogy room....

The Humane society has an exhibit on the 42nd St. curb consisting of a wounded kitten and a sign: "I was thrown in an ash can and left to die....Always a crowd around it, and plenty of silver clinking in the collection tins....There are still more than a thousand horse-drawn fruit and vegetable wagons in town....New Yorkers remain intensely sentimental about horses....Humans can lie unnoticed in gutters after tilts with Bowery "smoke", but a fallen horse will inevitably attract a big crowd and much muttering against the driver if he seems callously to blame....

Collision with Enric Madruguera, the band pilot, in a midtown telephone office....And he quite jittery about conditions in Spain, his native land, which he has been bombarding with cablegrams for weeks....His mother and five sisters are stranded in war-torn Barcelona and he has had no news....One sister, by the way, is Paquita, a famed concert pianist and the wife of Andres Segovia, who has been called "the greatest guitarist in the world"—extravagant praise in the land of the balcony serenades....Enric was all adrift over a senorita who left America for Spain when she heard her father had been killed during the explosions following the abdication of King Alfonso....He has never seen or heard from the dark-eyed damsel since....

Much Broadway chatter and speculation over the forthcoming Eugene O'Neill broadside of seven-count "em—seven plays, to be flung at theatergoers in successive groupings....The Theater Guild will produce, albeit gingerly, for the failure of the seven to click will entail a huge loss....However, O'Neill has filled the coffers of the Guild from his smash-hits on occasion, and they feel bound to present his amazing flock of plays, all concerned with a single dramatic saga....Sonja Henie, twice-crowned Olympic figure-skating champion, has been grabbed by the Hollywood boys and the whippers are that she has the making of a first-grade dramatic actress....Her passion for white is consuming and genuine—no mere affectation....She can't tolerate any other hue and recently sent her custom-built auto back to the factory when she discovered that the top was tan....

Miracles do happen now and then....I have verified this one....Nino Martini, the warbler, was in Tucson, Arizona, not long ago and received a letter from a candy store girl who told him she had been living on one meal a day, saving up against an operatic fling....He arranged an audition and the girl so impressed with her carolling that Martini will back her training in the high notes, treating her to Jack Salter, manager of Martini, Tibbett, Galli Curci and others as mentor....Her name, against the future, is Louise Eybs....She is 20 and has been an orphan since she was 12....

From the letter of a saucy correspondent: "Fifty years ago when the Statue of Liberty was considered way uptown...."

That's real convenience—convenience that is worth a lot to any one—convenience that no other fuel can equal.

Gas Heat gives you many other advantages, too. It is healthful, it is clean, it is quiet, simple, dependable—and it modernizes your home as nothing else can.

Gas Heat is economical, too. It costs much less than you probably think. So get the facts for your own home. Phone now for a free cost estimate. There is no obligation.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TYPING AIDS EDUCATION

Commercially I have no interest in any typewriter. Educationally I have tremendous interest in all makes of them. In this column I have repeatedly urged parents of the child who is slow at spelling or reading to make available for him at home a typewriter, especially when a typewriter is already there.

Also I have shown how almost any child, about a year before entering school, might profitably be guided to "play" on the typewriter.

Carefully conducted experiments have revealed that the typewriter can be made a very effective tool for learning in the elementary school. Of course the cost involved would make its wide use at school prohibitive for some years. Nevertheless, a rapidly increasing number of homes will provide the typewriter as standard equipment for the child attending school.

Its value to the student increases as he enters high school. For the college student who plans intelligently it already is standard equipment. Nearly anyone who can afford to go to college can afford to have a typewriter. To some students, to have this tool will mean the difference between passing and failing in one or more subjects.

Papers Graded Higher

Experiments have demonstrated that the same college "paper" will be graded higher, as a rule, if typed than if handwritten. Teachers are human. If a paper is unattractive and hard to read, they are inclined to value it lower than if it is attractive and easy to read. Also the student may be able to think more clearly in neat, legible words than in words that appear disorderly.

Anyone can learn alone to type by the "hunt and peck" system, but it is a very wasteful method. Having used this method myself, I can attest to its inefficiency. Had I had gumption enough to have taken a course in typing 20 years ago, or stuff of character enough then to teach myself by the touch system, see what fine dividends I would have been clipping all the while from the investment. It's not too late yet, but—

The college student planning to begin the use of a typewriter next year might well register at once in a local commercial school for the rest of the summer. Possessing unusual power at self-discipline, he or she might, however, learn alone from a good manual, practicing several hours a day.

Perform First Surgery Under Prepaid Plan

To David and Richard Copson, seven and nine respectively, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Copson of East Garfield avenue, goes the distinction of being the first elective surgery cases under the new Jamedson Memorial hospital prepaid plan. The two young men had their tonsils removed on Monday.

Under the family plan of protection, which their father was wise enough to take out three months ago, the operations cost nothing—insofar as hospitalization is concerned, save for half the rate for a room for one day. The use of the operating room, anesthesia and necessary medicines are provided for under the prepaid plan.

Due to chemical treatment, the average life of a cross tie used by the railroads is now from 25 to 30 years. Before this practice of treating ties was adopted, the average life was from five to eight years.

Universals Have Celebration Feed At Shook Home

Members of the Universal Sanitary golfing team, champions of the second-half of the Business Men's golf league were treated to a chicken dinner last night at the home of their leader George Shook on Neshaanock boulevard. The dinner was prepared by Mrs. George Shook.

The golfers have just as much zip in their appetites as they have in their drives down the fairway, and in their accurate putting. The boys stowed away steaming plates of delicious chicken, and then spent the evening hours in music.

The following attended the dinner: Jack Machin, Mose Mancine, Dewayne Cooper, Keith W. McAfee, Eddie Long, Geno Veri, "Cap" Shook, Johnny Hodge was a special guest. It was a celebration party for their second-half championship and will long be remembered.

May Postpone Championship Go

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Indefinite postponement of the James J. Braddock-Max Schmeling heavyweight championship fight appeared likely today.

Braddock is understood to be planning to undergo an operation upon the small finger of his left hand, which will keep him out of the ring for at least four months.

Joe Gould, the champion's manager, was expected to go before the boxing commission today and request that Braddock be excused from going through with the Schmeling bout, scheduled for the latter part of next month.

Marcella baseball team added another triumph to its victory list, this time shutting out the South Side Merchants 5-0, in a game played on the Rosena grounds.

Gabby DeCaprio, shifted from an outfielder to a pitcher and hurled just about as sweet a contest as anyone cares to see, limiting his foes to six bingles. Aside from doing a superb job on the rubber, DeCaprio hit the pellet for a four bagger with two mates on the sacks.

Aiding Criminals Serious Offense

Several Persons Face Arrest
At Hands Of G-Men For Aiding Criminals

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Additional arrests arising from activities of erstwhile public enemies were forecast today.
J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the federal bureau of investigation, announced that a number of persons who gave refuge to several desperadoes subsequently captured by G-men, are being sought by agents.
"We know that such men as Thomas Robinson, Alvin Karpis and Harry Campbell were aided in their efforts to evade capture," Hoover asserted. "For that reason we are keeping the cases involving these men open."

Arrested Dozen.
Hoover pointed to the fact that after his men apprehended John Dillinger, they arrested more than a dozen persons who had harbored the gangster.
At the same time, Hoover disclosed the agents were experimenting with a new type gun which soon may become standard equipment. The weapon, known as a "magnum" gun, is capable of firing bullets through heavy iron plates.
